Summary Description: Learn how to draw with confidence by exploring the art and techniques of the ink pen. Topics include ways of seeing in observational drawing, and how best to capture movement, light and shade.

Detailed Description: Making marks with an ink pen can be a little daunting at first. Instant & permanent, the ink pen can deter many well established artists. This course aims to look at ways to use this medium with confidence, and to embrace the mistakes that will inevitably be made.

With observational drawing, the stumbling block is usually learning how to see correctly. Perspective, scale, movement, light & shade are all vital elements in observational drawing, and this course will look at different ways to approach & tackle these.

Objectives/Outcomes: Students will learn new skills that will help them develop their future artwork. Students will benefit from sharing work & ideas with their fellow students. Students will learn and create artwork in a friendly, non-pressured environment.
