

Turned on its head

Magical movement sessions for families together

“The session adapts to each child, it’s just so much fun, sometimes energetic, sometimes calm - whatever the child wants really.” Participating parent

Turned On Its Head is a creative movement session tailored for children on the autistic spectrum (2 - 3pm) and for children with complex disabilities (3.15 - 5pm) and their families. Explore materials, movement, and space in our multi – sensory environment, and have lots of fun!

With Liz Clark and Oksana Tyminska

Sessions are tailored to meet everyone’s individual needs.

Fully accessible changing facility available

Sunday 27 January, 24 February and 17 March 2013

2pm – 3pm: fun and physical, an autism friendly session

3.15 – 5pm: reflective and sensory, for children with complex disabilities

£5 per child per session, accompanying adults free

Please book tickets in advance

Box office: 0116 252 2455, www.embracearts.co.uk

Embrace Arts, Richard Attenborough centre
Lancaster Road, Leicester LE1 7HA
(Just off University Road, next to the fire station)

Kindly supported by Leicester City Council Disabled Children’s Services

The University of Leicester’s arts centre – open to all